The features that we had finished for this milestone were the home page, the browsing tab, an upload page, and a SQL database in the backend to store information. All of these features worked during the demo when we presented them during the interview. We didn't really run into any issues during development, and while there was some more things we wanted to include in the pages, they were purely display based and things we can easily add in later. Our TA just suggested that we try and figure out how to effectively use post gres in order to host our webpage so that we can have different people on the website at once.
